Sotteville-lès-Rouen Wrestling Centre

The Sotteville-lès-Rouen Wrestling Centre is one of two centres in Rouen and the surrounding area. The resident club, SSCC, has organised an international open for the past 10 years and hosts warm-ups for athletes competing in the nearby (temporary) official combat area in the stadium's multisports room, which has a capacity of up to 1,000 spectators. The resident club has competed at the highest level in France for 10 years. Through exchanges with international athletes, SSCC is renowned around the world. The men's team, crowned French D1 champions in 2017, includes two well-known names: world champion and Olympic wrestler Mélonin Noumonvi, and Moroccan international Choucri Attafi. The club could play an important supporting role for delegations, including the provision of medical services. The spacious, leafy stadium where the centre is located includes a soft-surface 4 km jogging course through well-preserved rustic surroundings.
